Midcontinent Venture Capital Summit

The Midcontinent Venture Capital Summit, hosted by Oklahoma-based venture capital firm Cortado Ventures, highlights all facets of the burgeoning startup technology industry outside of coastal bubbles.

In a world where talent is spread fairly evenly and venture funds congregate in coastal markets, there is a gold rush of opportunity for limited partners, venture capital firms, and entrepreneurs to pioneer technology innovations of legacy industries that dominate central US regions.

This gathering will celebrate the achievements, challenges, and opportunities from each stakeholder perspective of our domestic emerging market for technology innovation.

This one-day summit is bringing together investors, innovators, founders and business leaders across the South Central U.S. Anticipated speakers and presenters include VC general partners, seasoned entrepreneurs, family office investors, elected leaders, and ecosystem builders.
